DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 8-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Nunn, USPN 6,317,828.

3. Referring to claim 8, Nunn teaches:

- a) configuring one or more aspects of a computer system using system ROM code (figure 1, element 113, Nunn's system has a BIOS ROM setup to configure the system) ;
- b) permitting an operator to select an option device coupled to said computer system to be configured using said system ROM code (column 4, various option devices are able to be selected as bootable so they are configured as bootable using the system ROM); and
- c) searching for an option ROM code associated with said option device using said system ROM code (column 4, figure 2); and
- d) executing said option ROM code (column 4, figure 2).

Furthermore, Nunn teaches wherein (c) includes searching for a predefined value that indicates the location of a set of information, said set of information includes a location value that is used to determine the location of the option ROM code. During option ROM scanning operating codes are loaded into memory that contain expansion header information that contains location values for the option ROM codes (column 3 and column 4, lines 38-45).

4. Referring to claim 11, Nunn teaches further including returning to said system ROM code after said option code completes executing. At the end of option ROM initialization and execution, the system returns to the BIOS.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed 04/26/04 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. With regards to amended claim 8, Nunn does in fact teach all of the limitations as claimed (see rejection above).

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 2-6 and 13-19 are allowed.

7. Claims 9 and 10 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

8. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action.
